The guy who steals people

Mason's army got defeated so they couldn't protect the king and next thing they knew the enemy army called raiders and started raiding every building in the city and killing everyone in their way. when everyone thought that the army gone it actually was just stopped in its tracks to defeat the raider's but half of Mason Army was underground in its secret base so when Mason got a bit of his awareness back he deployed the other half and it just showed up in time to save their king and killed a third of the people attacking. Won the battle there but did they know that more of them are going to come to kill everyone they love.

Chapter 3

So when they heard him say that they got hyper and made some defence systems like walls that just pop up when people come close to it and the only thing that can open the wall is a key that is on everyone's phones but disables for some people but makes it through for others who live in the city and tells Mason who is coming inside the walls of defence and if a person stole the code it would tell Mason whom ever stole it and he can electrify the phone and that would electrify the person if he touches the phone so there are no bugs in the system.

System broken

So that they can't break through the system at least that's what general Mason thinks but does he know that the other army is plotting against him right now and trying everything to break the defence without damaging the wall so that they can take over the city. And now The Raiders figured out the way to break in and the way is the super sword and it is buried far away they have a map but whoever went never returned to their kingdom.
